

Micro Case 1060

The Peli 1060 Micro case is the ideal solution for protecting your small electronic devices, valuables and essential accessories when you're on the move. Compact, durable and practical, this high-quality protective case guarantees maximum security for your items, thanks to its innovative design and robust materials. Whether you need to protect cameras, stills, smartphones or any other fragile equipment, the Peli 1060 ensures optimum protection.

Features :

- Compact dimensions: Suitable size for small objects and electronic devices.
- Integrated carabiner: for easy, convenient attachment to your bag, belt or other accessory for safe transport.
- Watertight closure: Robust clasp ensures hermetic closure for total protection.
- Automatic depressurization valve: Compensates for the internal pressure of the case, preventing moisture and water from penetrating.
- Inner rubber padding: Provides extra protection by acting as an O-ring, offering optimum insulation against moisture and dust.
- IP67 certification: withstands immersion up to 1 meter under water for 30 minutes.
- Color and design: Available in opaque or transparent versions, with colored finishes to suit your preferences.
- Waterproof and protected against the elements: Resists water, dust and impact to ensure the safety of your items.

Advantages :

- Ultimate protection: IP67 waterproofing means you can protect your items in the most extreme environments, whether it's rain, immersion or contact with dust.
- Easy transport: Thanks to its integrated carabiner, you can carry your devices with ease, without having to worry about their safety.
- Durability: The dimensionally stable plastic structure and automatic depressurization valve ensure long-term protection against harsh conditions.
- Enhanced safety: Rubber padding protects your devices from shock and vibration, while providing a watertight seal to prevent moisture penetration.
- Practical design: the case is designed to be easy to open while ensuring secure closure, giving you quick access while maintaining protection.
