Long-Term Multi-Purpose First Aid Kit for 10 People

The long-lasting first-aid kit for up to 10 people is designed to provide a complete first-aid supply while prioritizing supplies with a long shelf life.

It is suitable for businesses, workshops, local governments, technical sites, and other professional environments requiring a compact kit capable of addressing the most common incidents: cuts, minor bleeding, bruises, superficial wounds, and support needs.

It contains a variety of bandage sizes, sterile gauze pads, a pressure bandage, elastic bandages, adhesive tape, and the necessary first-aid supplies.

A composition designed for extended shelf life

This kit is part of a line specifically developed to offer a longer shelf life than that typically found in standard first-aid kits.

In particular, it contains a 50-ml aerosol of sterile cleansing solution for skin cleansing. This solution eliminates the need for the routine use of antiseptic products in the kit and also helps minimize the risk of allergic reactions.

This design is based on a key principle: the kit must be checked periodically to replace any products that have been used, are damaged, or have expired.

A compact kit for up to 10 people

The container is made of red polyurethane and closes with a zipper. It features several pockets for organizing the various first-aid supplies.

A belt loop makes it easy to carry while on the move, while the reflective cross helps it stand out among other equipment.

A packet of 5 sterile compresses rounds out this kit, along with a sterile pressure bandage for situations

Support and Protection

The emergency blanket rounds out the kit when temporary thermal protection is needed while awaiting appropriate medical care.

These accessories provide immediate access to the main tools needed to use the supplies in the kit.

Its size makes it suitable for both a permanent setup in a workshop or office and for mobile use by a maintenance team, a technical service, or a field technician who is regularly on the go.

Check the first-aid kit regularly

The “long-lasting” designation does not exempt the kit from periodic inspection. You should regularly verify that all items are present, check the condition of the packaging, and review the expiration dates of consumables.

Any item that has been used or is damaged must be replaced to ensure the kit remains fully stocked and immediately available in the event of an incident.
