Interior Divider Kit for PELI CRATE CR90

Organize the contents of your PELI CRATE CR90

The PELI CRATE CR90 interior divider kit allows you to compartmentalize the storage space in your 90-liter case to separate and organize the equipment you're transporting.

Whether it's tools, measuring instruments, technical accessories, or field equipment, the dividers let you assign a specific spot to each set of equipment and prevent them from shifting around inside the case during transport.

This organization makes it easier to prepare the equipment and access it in the field, especially when multiple items need to be grouped together for a single operation.

Two modular dividers to customize the compartments

The kit features a modular design consisting of two components. These can be used separately to create multiple storage zones or assembled to form a single partition.

The dividers can be installed and repositioned without tools, allowing for quick adjustment of the interior layout when the equipment being transported changes.

They can also be removed to create a completely unobstructed storage space, especially when the box needs to accommodate larger items.

MOLLE grids for organizing small accessories

Each divider features a MOLLE attachment grid designed to hold compatible pouches and accessories. This feature provides additional storage options for small items without taking up space in the main compartments.

This makes it possible to combine the box's compartmentalization with mounting solutions tailored to the type of equipment being transported.

Benefits of the CR90 Divider Kit

- Customizable compartmentalization: create different spaces depending on the equipment being transported.
- Better organization: Separates equipment and minimizes movement within the case.

- Tool-free installation: quick setup and reconfiguration.
- Removable design: the dividers can be removed to use the entire interior volume.
- Integrated MOLLE webbing: Secure compatible pouches and accessories.
- Dedicated compatibility: kit designed for the 90-liter PELI CRATE CR90.

FAQ: Frequently Asked Questions About the PELI CRATE CR90 Dividers

Can this kit be used in a PELI CRATE CR45?

No. This kit is designed specifically for the 90-liter PELI CRATE CR90. The CR45 has a separate divider kit tailored to its interior dimensions.

Can multiple divider kits be installed in a single CR90?

The manufacturer describes the kit as a set of two components that can be used separately or assembled together. However, it does not specify whether multiple complete kits can be installed simultaneously in a single case. This possibility must therefore be verified before planning any additional configuration.

What is the difference between the CR90 dividers and the MOLLE lid panel?

The CR90 dividers are used to create compartments within the main compartment of the case. The MOLLE lid panel, on the other hand, allows you to attach compatible pouches and accessories under the lid. These two systems serve different organizational needs and can be used together.

Are MOLLE pouches included with the divider kit?

The kit includes the dividers equipped with MOLLE grids. The MOLLE pouches and accessories, which are presented as complementary organization solutions, are not listed as included in the kit and must be purchased separately.

Find compatible cases and other accessories in our PELI CRATE shipping cases category.